The pictures on this page portray the framework, the building that is East Buchanan. Naturally, the physical aspects of a school are important. Rooms, books, and other facilities can do much to influence a student's opinion of his school.

Often though, looking at a building will tell you little about the spirit and feeling of a place, for it is in the human element--the students, teachers and staff--that this is determined.

When a student looks back on his high school days, the foremost pictures in his mind will be of his friends, the favorite teachers, the good times and the bad times. He will not remember the building.

However, all that REALLY remains in reality is the framework. It is all that is left to show that such a time did exist in a person's life. The mood that pervaded the place in those days may be gone forever.

Although these photos fail to capture the essence of East Buchanan '72, they are here for the student, when or if he wishes to look back, so that there will be something concrete to start with, that his memories may have a firm origin.

IN APPRECIATION

Usually an annual is dedicated to just one teacher but because of the many things they both have done for our class of "72" we could not choose just one. Therefore, we dedicate this annual to . . .

Mr. Porr whose warm smile and friendly personality has shown his concern and personal interest in each student.

And to Mr. Zebelean who through his sincere way has shown his care and understanding for each of us as individuals.

Together, each in his own unselfish way, has helped to inspire us to be the individuals we want to be.

We hope this will show them both how much we respect and admire them.

SCHOOL BOARD

The East Buchanan C-I Board of Education met in special session Wednesday evening, March 1, 1972 to discuss various school problems concerning curriculum, school building and facilities along with various other aspects of the school program. The Board is very concerned about the future of this district. At this meeting they decided to form a Citizens Advisory Committee to help them make some of these important decisions concerning our building needs. Members of the Citizens Advisory Committee are:

Sid Johnson, Sr.
Emmett Auxier
Eleanor O'Day
Ed McPhee
Dale Owens
Forrest Waters
Susie Jones
Dr. James Munson
Eldon Brinton
Jim Holder
Bill Jackson
Billy G. Kerns
Curtis Coffey
Keith Bodenhausen
Robert Kneib
Kathy Price
Jon Gilleland
Mike Frazier
Alice Bedingfield
Will Hunter
Don Magruder
Charles West
Gene Meade
Gerald O'Brien
Eldon Hixson
John Helberg
Darrell Meade
Nick Spaeth
Virgil McDonald
Joe Willis

The time these citizens have given to this committee thus far is sincerely appreciated. It is hoped that good things will develop from the action taken at these planning sessions.

ADMINISTRATION

Carl G. Baker
Superintendent

Mr. Baker enjoys most the challenge of running a school system. He finds the building, teachers, students, and all the people connected with the school very interesting. He regrets the loss of actual student contact, but this is natural when the school is becoming more demanding with a growing enrollment.

When asked if he couldn't be involved with the school what would he go into, Mr. Baker said that he is currently working on a specialists degree in education hoping to eventually get a doctorate degree. He could then use this to teach administration classes in college.

Mr. Baker believes team teaching is fine and should be encouraged if facilities and working aids are available. The success of the program depends on the teachers' abilities to cooperate with each other.

"Everyone should be encouraged to treat everyone with the golden rule, everyone is worthy of being treated as a human being." He believes in compassion and fairness for every individual.

John C. Watson
High School Principal

Mr. Watson's personal philosophy of education is, "The end result should be that students have learned to think in an organized logical manner. Achieving this the student will be able to tackle any problem in life."

He chose the field of administration because of the basic desire to organize. It also allows him an opportunity to contribute in his own qualified way in service to his fellow men.

Commenting upon modular scheduling, Mr. Watson feels it is a fine system if ample space, sufficient staff, and proper organization are provided. However, he doesn't feel it is the best system of organized education for a school schedule.

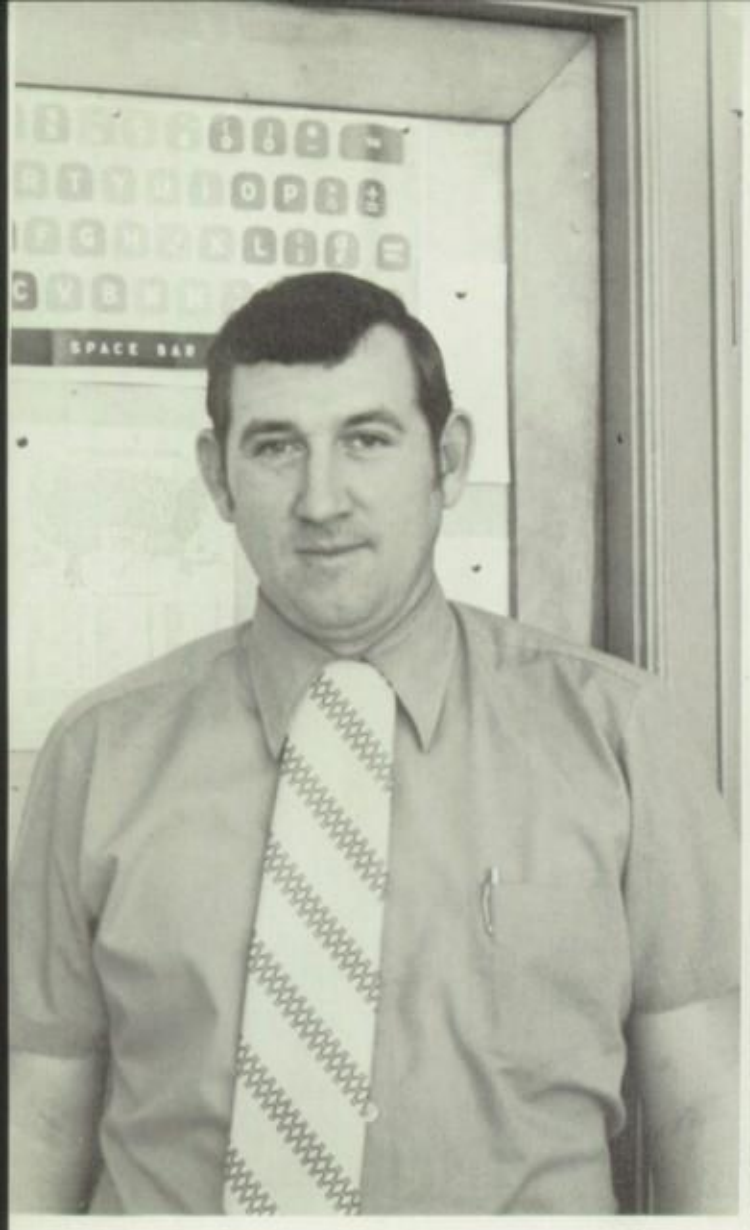
Expanded curriculum for next year will include a two hour block in a vocational business course and the opportunity for senior students to attend classes at Hillyard's Vocational School.

Charles Beggs
Elementary Principal

"Education is a democratic process under which an individual is helped to develop his potentialities to the fullest with the eventuality that he will be accepted in a democratic society fully prepared to be assured of a decent standard of living and a sense of belonging." This is Mr. Begg's philosophy of education.

He approves of team teaching, and feels that the interrelation of a lot of the subject matter taught contributes to its success. He added that open classrooms and other such facilities do much to increase this idea's effectiveness.

He commented, "I enjoy being around young people, for I feel that they keep you young, and up with the times."



LAWRENCE MINK

B.S. in Business Education and Industrial Arts--Northwest Missouri State College; Typing, Drafting and Shorthand. Sponsor of the Junior Class.

"I enjoy the chance to work with young people, because they're different each day, and haven't established too many set patterns. My philosophy of teaching is that you must take into account each student's abilities and interests-each young person will produce in relationship to his order of priorities."

Mr. Mink perfers individual classroom instruction, because two teachers working together have to give in and cooperate more than he feels he might be able to.

Mr. Mink commented "If I could not teach at this time I'd like to be in some type of social work--just as long as I could still be working with people. I hope to stay in a school position, maybe someday in an administrative capacity, such as an elementary principal."

ICEL HENDERSON

B.S. in Vocational Home Economics--Northeast Missouri State Teachers College; Home Economics Classes. Sponsor of Future Homemakers of America.

"I have been teaching for many years, and I don't think young people have changed as much as most adults think." Mrs. Henderson feels that teachers have an important place in society, and will have as long as there are people who need guidance and direction.

Mrs. Henderson noted "A Home Economics course is no longer just a cooking and sewing course. It also prepares girls for managing a home and a career, and informs them about family living, health and consumerism."

"I was influenced to start teaching by my parents, by the fact that I liked people, and by my wish to be with my family as much as possible and still hold a job. After my retirement, I hope to keep busy with traveling, painting and crafts."

JIM McMILLIAN

B.S. in Social Science--Central Missouri State College; American History, World History and Psychology & Sociology. Sponsor of the Junior Class.

"I think the most enjoyable thing about teaching is when interest, for a subject, is created in a student who generally does not show any interest."

Mr. McMillian originally wanted to be a conservationist or work in some way with ecology. He changed his mind by deciding that it was more important to work with people in the teaching area. When asked what he would do if he could not teach he said that he would return to his idea of conservation.

"Team teaching depends on whether the two teachers personalities were compatable and modular class scheduling would not benefit the entire student body...what is good for some isn't good for everyone."

Mr. McMillian plans to continue his education in the field of guidance.

RON HOWARD

B.S. in Physical Education--Emporia State Teachers College; World History and Contemporary Issues. Girl's Basketball Coach, Asst. in Football and Boy's Basketball.

"I became a coach-teacher because I like playing all sports and being with young people." Mr. Howard believes an important factor in teaching is to get along with the students in a good working relationship. He also believes that each teacher hopes his students will be interested in the subject enough to get something thing out of the material.

When asked what he would do if he couldn't teach or coach he stated he would go into some type of management where he could stay in contact with people.

Mr. Howard hopes to eventually coach college sports, he is getting the experience here at E.B. and is waiting for opportunity to knock.

ELIZABETH CONNETT

B.M. in Music--Oklahoma College of Liberal Arts: Music Appreciation, High School & Jr. High Band and Elementary Music.

"Hear no evil, see no evil, and speak no evil," is Mrs. Connett's philosophy on teaching.

What does she find most enjoyable about teaching? Directing the band through a number that is performed well and sharing with the students a feeling of satisfaction and accomplishment.

She feels that team teaching would be great as long as the two teachers would work together and not compete against each other. With team teaching more ideas could be offered to the students.

"Modular scheduling would be helpful in encouraging individual achievement, but not in band...the band performs as a group and therefore must work together as a group."

GARY SUMMERS

M.S. in Adminitration--Northwest Missouri State College; English I, Speech & Drama and Journalism. Sponsor of the Student Senate.

Mr. Summers' philosophy on teaching is to show an enthusiasm and an interest in teaching. He feels, "The quest for knowledge is exciting in itself."

What he finds most enjoyable about teaching is seeing a student accomplish something he had not earlier been able to master. He also enjoys working with people.

When asked whether he would prefer to team teach, Mr. Summers said it would depend on the teacher he would have to teach with. In order for it to be a valuable team their ideas would have to be compatible.

Mr. Summers feels that modular scheduling would be beneficial to many students. However, most modular scheduling allows much freedom which some students cannot freely handle, therefore some provision must be made for these students.

RICHARD PORR

B.S. in Science and Math-Northwest Mo. State College; Algebra II, Trig. and General Science. Sponsor of the Senior Class.

Mr. Porr chose the teaching field because he enjoys working with young people. He has found much variety in teaching. Every day is different because people are different. Mr. Porr also enjoys working with math and the material he teaches.

Mr. Porr feels "education should make a better and fuller life for the individual person."

If he wasn't teaching, he would like to further his education in the physics field and enter a physics research area.

Favoring team teaching, Mr. Porr feels it would be more democratic and would give the students several different viewpoints. However, he would not prefer modular scheduling as all students do not have enough self discipline to handle it. Too many problems in administration would be created.

JOAN KILLGORE

M.E. in Music and English-Drury College; English II, English III, and Girls Glee Club. Sponsor of Freshman Class.

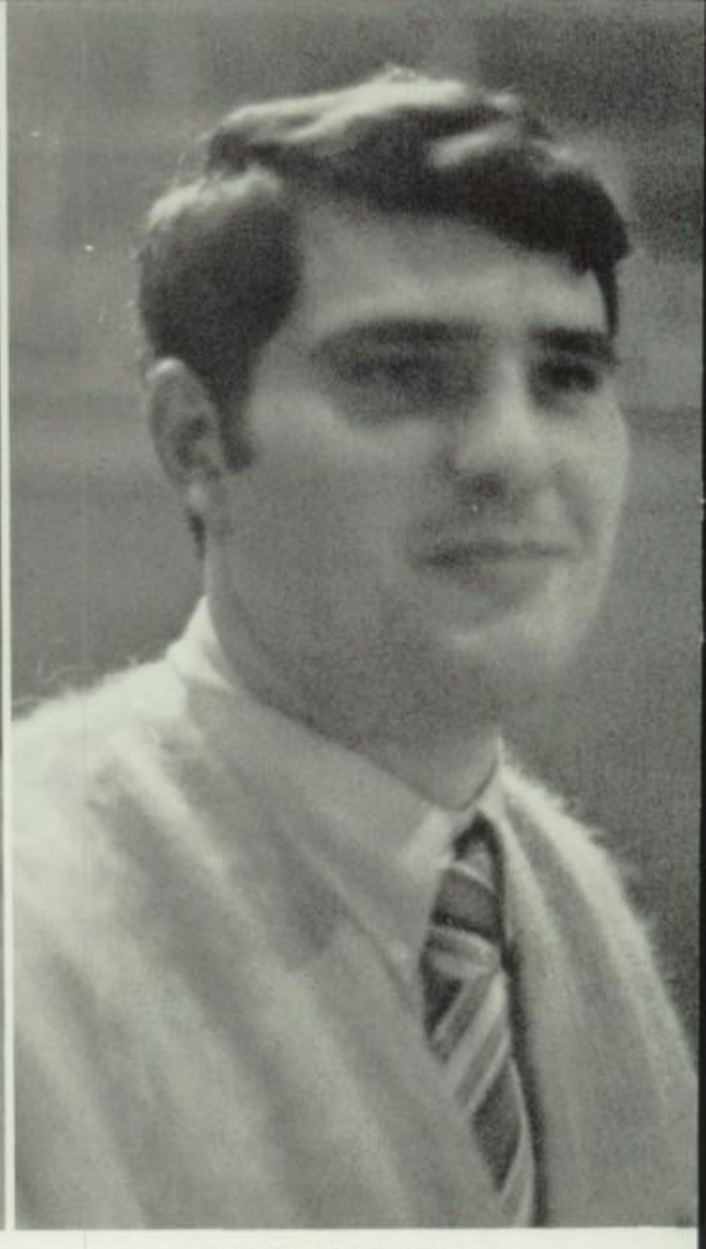
Since her childhood years when she played school with her sister, Mrs. Killgore has had a desire to teach. Her personal aim as a teacher is "To make the students want to go beyond what I give them."

Mrs. Killgore feels the most interesting thing about teaching is the great variety every day brings when working with individuals.

With interests in music, Mrs. Killgore would like to work with a choir and teach organ if not teaching at school.

Mrs. Killgore feels that modular scheduling, if worked right, would be vaulable. However, some students would not be able to handle it. She doesn't think it would work here as there are not proper facilities here to accomodate such a system.

She would prefer team teaching, although not on a steady basis. With the right person it could provide many rewarding experiences.



VIRGIL FREEMAN

B.S. in Physical Education-Missouri Western College; P.E. Classes, Driver's Education, Asst. Football Coach and Asst. Girl's Coach.

Mr. Freeman went into teaching because he always thought it would be a way to work with younger people and simply more involvement with people. He always wanted to be a professional and star in sports. He is working on his masters and hopes to eventually coach on the college level.

Mr. Freeman has never been involved with modular planning, but believes it would be beneficial in certain subjects. This way students would be able to stay longer at a class they didn't understand.

Coach thinks team teaching would be especially good in physical education. He particularly enjoyed having a student coach second semester. It was then possible to give more individual instructions, but he believed it will never be seen here.

DICK SCHILLING

B.S. in Spanish--Northwest Missouri State College: Jr. High Spanish, Spanish I, Study Halls, Sponsor of Pep Club.

"Having four study halls a day tends to make you think twice about your ideas on education and discipline."

Mr. Schilling enjoys playing tennis and traveling. He has a desire to go back to Mexico and visit the country and maybe find a position teaching or in some official capacity as a language interpreter.

ALICE PATTERSON

B.S. in Social Science and English--Missouri Western College; English IV, English II, American History I, Sponsor of Pep Club.

Miss Patterson plans to teach for a few years and then attend graduate school. Shen then hopes to be an instructor in college.

"Teaching must not be one-sided. There must be interaction, a give-and-take, and real communication between students and teachers." She enjoys intelligent discussions, when students open up with new ideas related to the material they are studying in class.

Miss Patterson feels that team teaching is good, for students can then get a broader spectrum of material, methods and views. She would like to see a team-teaching schedules on rotating basis--2 days of team teaching to 3 days of individual instruction. Miss Patterson has gone to school under a modular scheduling system and thinks it would be a great system for all education.

DAVID PRIDDY

B.S. in Business Administration--McPherson College; Business Machines, Bookkeeping, General Business, Head Football Coach, Freshman Basketball, Asst. Track and Jr. High Athletics.

"My goal as a teacher is to help students to become more well-rounded, whether in sports or in the classroom. In business courses, I feel students need to be made aware of the business world, and should be prepared for it when they encounter it."

He explained that he had chosen teaching because he liked working with young people, and had discovered this while working with youth groups in college.

"Students benefit by teaching, since the teachers can spend more time preparing the materials for the part of the lesson that they are best equipped to handle."

Mr. Priddy has been head football coach and a business instructor at East Buchanan for four years.

HAROLD SHERWOOD

B.S. in Vocational Agriculture--Missouri University; Welding, Adv. Shop, Gas Engines, and Agriculture classes. Sponsor of the Future Farmers of America.

Mr. Sherwood has worked this year on expanding the curriculum in the Vocational Agriculture Dept.
He has helped with continuing education in the areas of adult and young farmer classes.

Next year will find many new innovations in the vocational agriculture dept. with Mr. Sherwood offering courses to non-ag-students and helping to develope the entire vocational program in this area.

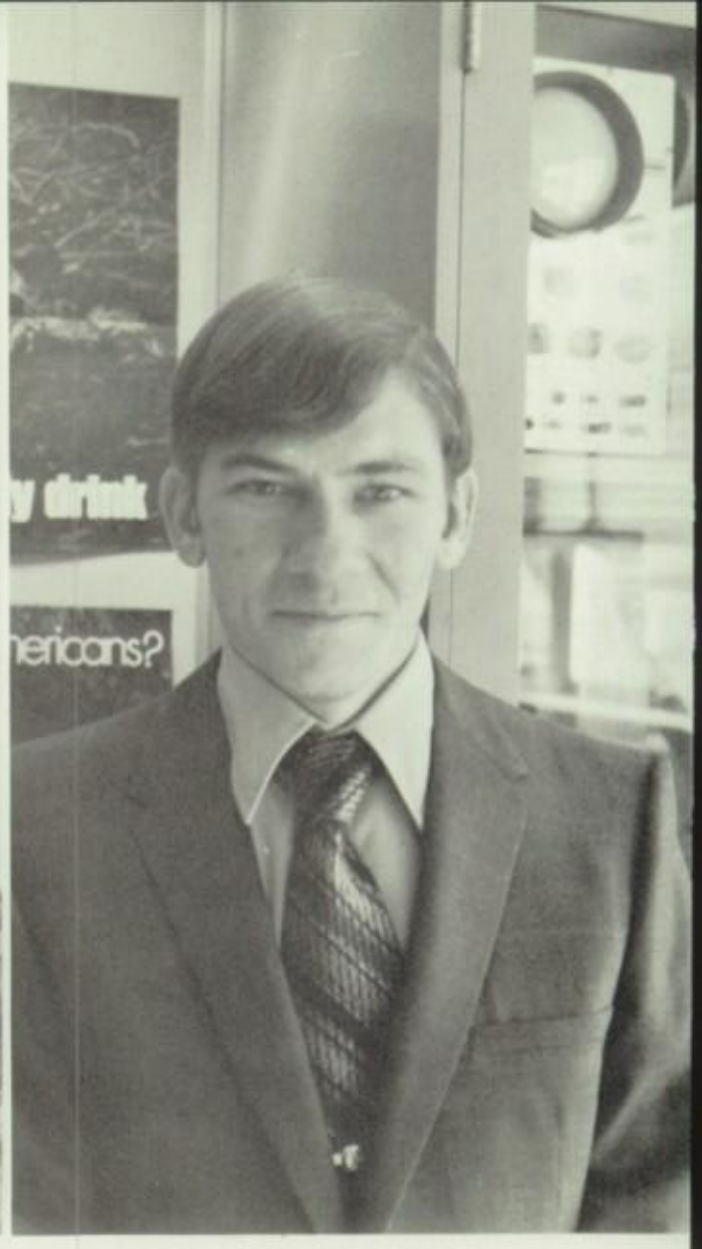
ELIZABETH GRAVES

M.S. in Mathematics--Colorado State College: Algebra I, General Math and Geometry. Sponsor of Sophomore Class.

"The reason why I became a teacher can't be pin pointed but I think it may have been the friendly teachers I had in high school."

In her years of teaching Mrs. Graves has found that the best policy is to realize that everyone is just human, both pupil and teacher.

Mrs. Graves has team taught and thinks the material that is offered to the students is very beneficial to the young person's learning processes.



RICHARD ZEBELEAN

B.S. in Chemistry and Biology--Northwest Missouri State College; Chemistry, Biology, Adv. Biology. Sponsor of Senior Class.

Mr. Zebelean feels it is not his sole purpose as a teacher to "teach biology and chemistry, but to teach students to solve problems."

He entered the teaching field primarily for a three year period as a stepping stone to enable him to achieve his goal as a pharmacist. However, he has found teaching to be quite enjoyable and plans to remain with teaching for awhile.

Mr. Zebelean would prefer team teaching as there are some areas he is not as interested in and feels another person more interested in these areas could teach them better.

Modular scheduling, he feels, would not be favorable as some students would not be able to handle it properly.

RON MARAWSKI

M.S. in Guidance and Counseling--Northwest Missouri State College; Counselor and Librarian, Sponsor of Library Club, Quill & Scroll, Annual.

"The counselor is for the student's benefit. Sometimes my job is just to listen to the students, and other times I take a more directive and guiding approach. But this work is more than just listening to people's problem. It is also concerned with providing students with information and help in entering the college of their choice, or with finding the right technical school, or with any other future plans student may have."

Mr. Murawski said that the things he likes most about counseling are the opportunities to work with people, and the follow-up service on students graduating from this school. The conuselor keeps a record of each student for five years after his graduation, to see how each is doing. This helps in planning new curriculum, for by these records one can tell the weaknesses in the school system."

Mr. Murawski added that he would like to be involved with a college in some way in the future, perhaps as a director of admissions.

FOOTBALL 71

The Bulldogs started the 1971 season with a show of might, by overpowering the Grain Valley Eagles 27-0. A tough defensive unit held the Eagles to less than 100 yd. total offense. In the Conference opener the Bulldogs faced a tough Smithville team and was overpowered 30-0. In the third game of the season the Bulldogs defeateed the Mid Buchanan Dragons 12-6 in a hard fought battle. From this point injuries plagued the Bulldogs roster, and the Bulldogs muscle began to weaken. Though the Bulldogs fought hard they fell to a 1 and 7 Conf. record and a 2 and 7 overall record.

Four all Conference selections were awarded to members of the Bulldog team. Brint Connett, senior line-backer, was selected to first team defense; Steve Mitchell, senior defensive halfback, was selected to second team defense; Doug Grier, senior end, was selected to second team offensive unit and J.W. Kieser, senior tackle, was chosen second team defense.

Although it was a loosing season it had many bright spots which will contribute to the 1972 BULLDOG POWER.

FHA SALUTES ICEL HENDERSON

ICEL HENDERSON

On May 18th Icel Henderson said good-by to East Buchanan to seek a Leisure life in retirement. As we look back on her tenure here many memories will linger, but the echo of her voice in the upper hall will still remain . . . "work, work, work, . . hurry girls, hurry, we've got to clean these cabinets, visitor tomorrow."

Mrs. Henderson undoubtedly holds the record for several outstanding accomplishments, one of which would be the "fast driving award" . . holding the record time from St. Joseph to Gower. In Mrs. Henderson's own words, "I don't want a doggie car, have to open her up once in awhile." Tailoring classes have bestowed upon her another honor as being the top home economics teacher in ripping out zippers.

The family living class, for years, have asked the question, is there really a Richard, and why is she saying all these things about him? And, who is Marilyn? In making this story of "Love of Life" complete one, a man named Virgil is thrown in as a character reference but no one has ever heard from him because he can't get a word in edge-ways.

As we look back on the career of such a fine person as Icel Henderson what can we say but farewell good friend and fellow teacher. You will be missed but we all sincerely wish you the finest life has to offer, you have given of yourself now it is time to reap the harvest of success and capture life at its fullest. Farewell Icel Henderson, remember that you leave almost two decades of your life with us . . . years of accomplishment and dedication.
